FIGHTS WIDOW'S LOVE BALM SUIT

Wentworth Viles Lander was always polite and helpful—but that doesn't mean he whispered $50,000 worth of love words into the ear of an attractive widow.

As the 71-year-old retired mining engineer contended in papers on file today in Suffolk Superior Court, where he is being sued for breach of promise by Mrs. Mary Frances Avery, 46, of Gray Birch terrace, Newtonville.

In answering interrogatories filed by Mrs. Avery, the aged resident of West Newton took up only one installment of his legal woes. In January a $50,000 love suit was filed against him by Mrs. Caroline Wells Schroeder, 37, Brookline divorcee.

Admitting he had given Mrs. Avery money on different occasions, he explained:

"It was at her request, and upon representations of serious financial emergency."

And he added, absent a talk with Mrs. Avery on June 1, 1937:

"We had some conversation on the piazza of my home. At her request, I took her to a store in my car and then for a short ride."

"I cannot remember all the details of the conversation except that I do recall her telling of her relations with several other men."

"I never had any conversation with the plaintiff with regard to marriage."

He admitted he saw Mrs. Avery several times at her home with her daughter and at his home and at Camp Uwanitumbac in Skowhegan, Me. He said:

"On one occasion, when the plaintiff's daughter was sick in a hospital, the plaintiff asked to stay overnight at my house and she did so."

Ice Queen Collapses After N. H. Killing

LACONIA, N. H., March 31—Pretty, dark-haired Mrs. Mabel Ames McArthur, former ice carnival beauty queen, had good reason to fear the jealous rage of the man neighbor she confessedly shot to death last night in a wild farm-kitchen fracas, investigating officers were told today.

Waiting to learn further first-hand details of the altercation which was climaxed by the slaying of Benjamin Dow, 51-year-old horse trader and odd jobs man, police kept vigil in the hospital ward where Mrs. McArthur lay today, victim of a severe nervous collapse.

Her parents, meantime, told police she was once friendly with Dow and used to go horseback riding with him.

INJURED HER DAUGHTER

She broke off the acquaintance, however, and told Dow she wanted to have nothing more to do with him, her parents said. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Ames.

According to Mrs. Ames, her daughter was injured recently when Dow, maddened by jealousy, struck her in the face, breaking her glasses and cutting her forehead.

Police learned of last night's fatal shooting when young Mrs. McArthur, wearing only a coat over her pink pajamas, ran into the Laconia station house allegedly sobbing.

"I've killed a man! I've killed Ben Dow!"

2 BULLETS IN HEAD

She collapsed before she could tell a coherent story of what had led up to the slaying, police said.

A squad of officers was rushed to the farmhouse where Mrs. Ames had lived for four years as lodger and part-time housekeeper for crippled Frank Bean, an elderly widower.

In the kitchen of the farmhouse, in a scene of wild confusion, Dow lay dead, with two bullet wounds in his head.

Furniture was broken and strewn about, a table was overturned and food and dishes littered the floor.

Bean told police Dow had come to the house with a quart of liquor and had sat for several hours drinking himself into an insane rage.

He had become violent and had

Who Was Where at Holdup?

A man's liberty, the future course of his whole life, hangs in the balance—and Judge Timothy Ahern of Roxbury court is frankly puzzled by the strange set of circumstances.

The man is 45, of Westland avenue, Back Bay, charged with taking part in a store robbery. He was arrested near his home last night a few minutes after two men had robbed the Dorothy Muziwi store in Massachusetts avenue.

Taken back to the store, police said, he was identified by Miss Mabel Diab of Everett street, Jamaica Plain, the clerk, and by Arthur Thomas, the janitor, as having been in the store at the time of the robbery.

When the robbers entered, Miss Diab told the court, MacDougal turned to the leader and said:

"Why do you rob these people? They only work here."

Whereupon, she continued, the robber snarled at him, and struck him. He fell to the floor, and stayed there until the robbers were gone, taking $70.

"But I wasn't in the store," said MacDougal. "I was in the neighborhood, but not in the store. I thought I was being robbed, myself, when the detectives stopped me."

Yet the identifications were positive, police said. No money was found on him, nor was there a gun.

Judge Ahern put it all off until April 7 and asked that a complete check be made of his record. He is held in $1500 bonds.

R. I. STRIKE YIELDING TO PEACE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 31—
Hope for a swift settlement of the 12-day strike which has paralyzed motor trucking in southern New England increased today.

After an unprecedented session in the Portsmouth home of Gov.
William H. Vanderbilt, the conference returned to Providence and adjourned at 1:30 a. m., reporting "substantial progress." They were to resume after a short rest.

At one point, it was said, representatives of the 1200 truck owners and agents for 10,000 drivers were "less than 3 per cent apart."

Meanwhile, however, the Massachusetts State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration moved to "step in"
to the picture.

The Massachusetts board, headed by Gen. Charles H. Cole, with Associate Commissioners Raymond V.
McNamara and John Campos, issued summonses to union officials and truck owners alike to appear at the State House.

Probe Deaths of 3 Husbands, Son in Ashburnham Mystery

FITCHBURG, March 31—Authorities today probed into the past life of Mrs. Victoria LeFebvre as the middle-aged Ashburnham housewife stoutly proclaimed her innocence of the poison death of her third husband, Fleuriert LeFebvre.

State detectives sought to determine the cause of the death of Adrian L. Daigneault, her first husband, and their son, 18. Both, the investigators said, were reported to have died suddenly in Montreal in 1921, within a few days of each other.

They said they also planned to question relatives in Leominster and Fitchburg of Floyd Joseph Vallee, the second husband, who died in 1935.

The arrest and arraignment of the widow followed a probe by state officials of the sudden death of her husband two months ago. Because of certain aspects of the body, Medical Examiner Cornelius L. Geary removed the vital organs and sent them for examination to State Chemist Joseph Walker at state police headquarters in Boston.

Walker reported the organs contained sufficient strychnine poison to cause death.

Mrs. LeFebvre, questioned following her arrest yesterday, said according to police that she had bought poison at her husband's request, "to kill a dog."

Authorities were seeking today to discover whether LeFebvre had any insurance policies, including government policies due from his war service. He served 18 months overseas with a machine gun company and had a distinguished war record.

Police said the widow had told them her husband had been ill for two weeks before his death but had refused to see a doctor. When his illness became alarming, she said, she called Dr. John Mason of South Ashburnham.

State Detectives Edward J. McCarthy of Worcester and Joseph L. Ferrari of Boston gave a different version of the poison purchase.

They said they had obtained a package of the poison, said to have been bought by Mrs. LeFebvre and later returned by her to a Fitchburg drug store.

Examination of the package, the detectives said, showed it had been revealed after a portion of the poison contents had been removed. Package and contents are both being examined at the state police laboratory in Boston.

Tragedy Widow Seeks Job and Plans Funerals

Bearing up bravely under her heavy load of successive misfortunes, Mrs. Ellen Corcoran of Pequot street, Roxbury, cared for her sick son today, as she awaited funerals of her husband and two-year-old daughter tomorrow.

The husband, James, 35, died at City Hospital half an hour before the little girl, Margaret, was killed by a truck.

John Corcoran, seven, was sick today. Another son, William, five, went sadly to school.

Tomorrow's double funeral will be from Mission Church, Roxbury.

Mrs. Corcoran said her first need now is a job.

"I can't break down. I've myself and two children to support," she told friends.

Meantime, George H. Dunn, 22, of Hillside street, Roxbury, alleged operator of the oil truck which killed Margaret, was held on a manslaughter charge for a hearing April 12.

Legislators Waiting State Pardon Probe

Massachusetts legislators today awaited explanation of the sensational charge by Executive Council Bayard Tuckerman that a "price list of pardons" is available to all prisoners in the state with the money to buy their way to freedom.

Listing the price range as from $2000 to $10,000, the Hamilton councilor coupled his charge with a statement that he would be willing to lay all his evidence before the Legislative Pardon Probe Committee which is to be named in a few days.

The graded prices by which a man may "buy out" of prison are fixed by a "salesman-in-chief," Tuckerman declared, and the money from pardon applicants has been shared out among state officials.

Various prosecutors throughout the state sent word they would be ready to aid the authorities in probing certain paroles and pardons. Notable among them was District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing of Norfolk County. He said: "I have never qualified my original statement that I do not believe Raymond Patriarca should have been pardoned by Governor Hurley."

From Registrar James A. Burke at City Hall came a charge that Patriarca's bride, the former Helen Mandella, sister of a member of Governor Saltonstall's staff, had made a mis-statement in her application for a license to wed the pardoned convict.

He said the mis-statement was that she lived at an address in Leyden street, East Boston.

Delay Hurricane Damage Payment

Legislative action on payment of $84,000 to contractors for repairs of hurricane damage at Framingham Teachers College is delayed until April 10, when a House committee will report.

Appropriation was held up largely at the instance of Representative John E. Troy of Dorchester. He pointed out that former Commissioner of Education James G. Beardon was fired by Governor Saltonstall's administration for approving hurricane contracts.

WPA WAR SEETHES IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 31 (INS)—In an atmosphere surcharged with bitterness and personal invective, the House today moved toward a showdown on President Roosevelt's request for a $150,000,000 emergency WPA appropriation.

Economy sentiment was running high as the House appeared certain to reject the President's request. While the appropriations committee recommended $100,000,000 a strong bi-partisan combination got behind a drive to slash this amount to $55,000,000.

Administration critics continued to hurl charges of waste and extravagance against the WPA, while New Dealers just as vigorously defended it.

DEFENDS WPA RECORD

Representative Bradley (D) of Pennsylvania, attacking Representative Taber (R.) of New York, declared that the record of the WPA for efficiency and honesty "has not been surpassed in the history of this country."

Charging Republicans with seeking to make a political issue out of relief, he replied to a charge by Taber that Henry G. Alsberg, head of the WPA writers project, publicly urged a union of convicts to develop "class consciousness" among prisoners in 1929.

RAPS THEATER PROJECTS

The party split was emphasized when Representative Maza (R.) of Minnesota announced that he would vote for the "largest WPA fund before the House" as Representative Dondero (R.) of Michigan attacked WPA theater projects.

Dondero said the federal government is supporting 1215 theatrical companies at a cost of $45,000,000 a year.

"If the men who gathered to write the American Constitution had ever thought the government was going in the theatrical business, I venture to say that they would have adjourned without signing the Constitution," Dondero stated.

Calls Goldfish Gobbling 'Idiotic Prank'

This business of goldfish gobbling, higher education's later gift to American culture, comes under the heading of an "idiotic prank" in the opinion of Dr. Frank H. Rowley, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Doctor Rowley, who refuses to become as excited as President

Robert F. Sellar of the Animal Rescue League, who threatens court action if the gadget isn't stopped, believes that the fad will die by itself. In an official ukase today Dr. Rowley said:

"To prove actual cruelty on the part of the silly fellow who swallows the fish would be an impossibility. The stunt seems to be an offense against good sense rather than a violation of anti-cruelty laws, and should be treated accordingly."

And even as the controversy raged—a controversy which includes a legislative bill, filed by Senator George Krapf of Pittsfield, to "preserve, conserve and protect the feelings of gold fish"—proponents of the latest collegiate sport were going on to a new record, with a movement under way to have goldfish swallowing included among the contests at the next Olympics.

It's all in deep secrecy now, though—what with all the showing and the turmoil.

F. D. R.'s 9th Grandchild Born to Mrs. Boettiger

SEATTLE, March 31 (AP)—A boy, weighing nine pounds, one ounce, was born yesterday to Mrs. John Boettiger at the Swedish hospital here and the announcement was immediately telephoned to President Roosevelt, his grandfather, at Warm Springs, Ga. The baby was born at 12:43 p. m. (3:47 p. m. E. S. T.). Mrs. Roosevelt, visiting here, was at the hospital at the time.

No decision has been reached to a name for the child, associates of the family said.

Mrs. Boettiger, the former Anna

Roosevelt Dall, has two other children—Anna Eleanor Dall, 12, and Curtis Dall, 8.

The infant is the President's ninth grandchild and the fifth boy among them. James Roosevelt has two children, Sara Delano 7, and Kate 2; Elliott has three, William Donner Roosevelt 6, Ruth Chandler 5, and Elliott, Jr. 2; and Franklin, Jr., has one, Franklin, one year old.

'Payless Payday' for UCC Averted by Big U. S. Grant

More than 2400 employees of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission were faced with a "payless payday" tomorrow—but at the nick of time federal grants totaling $267,794 came through from Washington.

According to the Social Security Board at Washington the grants include $185,787 for unemployment compensation and $82,006 for employment service.

The "life-saver" came as 83 employees prepared to leave the service at the end of today's session—latest victims of a payroll slash in the UCC.

Commission officials, announcing the discharges, said a payroll saving of $16,905 monthly would be accomplished. Of those discharged 57 had been working on a temporary basis since Jan. 1 while the others were dismissed as "unnecessary."

Among those notified of their dismissals were two district superintendents of claims at $200 monthly, Thomas Fitzmaurice of Malden and Elmo Tofferi of Fitchburg.

Among the 13 superintendents of claims let go was John F. Gatelee, Jr., of Westfield, son of the former head of the State Federation of Labor.

He was paid $180 monthly. Others discharged and their monthly salaries were: James W. Walsh, Hyde Park, chief appeals examiner, $310; Mary J. McGlinchey, Waltham, appeals examiner, $265; Frederick L. Pyne, Lowell, supervisor of claims, $250; and Peter P. McMenimon, Lowell, publicity agent, $170.

Woman Wills Chauffeur $5000

James Hadley, her chauffeur, is left $5000 and all other employees are bequeathed $100 each under the will of the late Annie D. Bailey of 290 Corey street, West Roxbury, who died March 25, leaving an estate estimated at more than $200,000.

Public bequests include one of $8000 to Faulkner hospital to establish a free bed to be known as the Annie D. Bailey bed, and $500 to the First Parish Church of West Roxbury.

The testatrix was the widow of the late Jason D. Bailey. The will was filed with Arthur W. Sullivan, register of the Suffolk Probate court.

ILL.—Lily Pons, opera star, who was sick in bed at her Norwalk, Conn., home today after cancelling an engagement to sing in Cleveland tomorrow.

Forgery Charge Faces P. O. Clerk

A Hyde Park postoffice clerk was arrested over a forgery charge today, as federal agents here and in Washington pressed investigation of alleged fraud in raised postal money orders.

The man, Edward F. Winter, 49, was arraigned before Commissioner Harry N. Guterman. He was held in $10000 for the grand jury. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of forging a money order for $100.

Plan Parley on Shoe Industry Wages

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP)—Wage-hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews said today an industry committee he named recently to recommend a minimum wage schedule for 200,000 employees in shoe manufacturing and allied industries would meet here Tuesday.

KENNEDY EXCLUSIVES

AS PRACTICAL AS THEY ARE NEW

Created by Kennedy's men's 1939 line. Decidedly new—decidedly practical for the many and varied activities now crowded into the average man's daily routine. Two garments suitable for both business and for sports—for town and for country—for both active sports and spectator sports—for travel and vacation.

THE WARDROBER

Four pieces to this suit—jacket, vest, trousers to match and contrasting socks.

The wardrobe has color—strong masculine color—cover that has an air of the late 1800s, of green—7 shades of brown, a whole family of blues and two families of grays.

Fabric interest too, and what fabrics—so new, so distinctive fabrics will have a new interest and meaning for you when you see them.

Buckley, McCooley Seek McGrath Berth

Selection of a new chairman for the state Democratic committee within a week loomed today following a conference between former Governor James M. Curley and Attorney-General Paul A. Davis.

The field has narrowed down to two possibilities. Thomas H. Buckley, former state auditor and Judge Francis W. McCooley of Bucklestone.

Curley has advocated the selection of Buckley, but has met with opposition from Davis who vigorously supports McCooley.

Democratic party state leaders in Washington have agreed to hasten the appointment in order to get on the state for coming campaign.

Although neither Buckley nor McCooley have been named as candidates for the state chairman, it is a possibility, Buckley, Curley said.

"Thomas H. Buckley is the logical choice for the berth because of his deep interest and work in the party."

Buckley, who has been reported to be a possible candidate for the state chairman, said: "Reports that I will not run for office next year are incorrect."

My statement at the State House was to the effect that I am not at all certain about my candidacy for public office next year. I might and I might not run for office.

My chief interest at present is the selection of a chairman for the State Democratic Committee.

However, the State Democratic machine must get rolling, and that cannot be accomplished until we have a "team" to watch the machine while it is in action."

Negro Singer Row Waxes Hot

WASHINGTON, March 31 (AP).—The Marian Anderson (Gibson) Committee, a group which has sought unsuccessfully to obtain a Washington audience for a concert for the Negro singer, said today Secretary Jones' arrangement for an open-air concert, "does not settle the fundamental issue." Jones' proposed permission for an open-air concert at the Lincoln Memorial. The committee expressed gratitude but said it still was trying to obtain use of a white marble auditorium. A spokesman added: "No fair-minded person can take any satisfaction in the fact that an artist like Marian Anderson is forced to sing outdoors in the nation's capital because she is a Negro."

Saltonstall Urges Saving of $1,500,000

consolidation of many boards of registration where there is much duplication of travel and some of personnel.

2.—Abolition of the labor relations commission and the transfer of its various duties to the commission of labor and industries and the courts.

3.—Abolition of the blue sky division in the Department of Public Utilities and the transfer of its few remaining functions directly to the Public Utilities Commission.

ELIMINATES 4 COLLEGES

1.—Abolition of the smoke inspection service.

2.—Elimination of the teachers colleges at Hyannis, Westfield, North Adams and Worcester.

3.—Consolidation of the elimination of the division of Americanization in the department of education.

4.—No expenditure for the purchase or development of further state forests at the present time; all funds available must be used in caring for present property.

5.—Reduction of reconstruction and resurfacing of the parkways of the metropolitan district from $20,000 to $200,000.

"It is my hope," said the governor in his message, "that a reduction in appropriations which can be made as the result of the recommendations of the committee on ways and means, the consolidations suggested above, and miscellaneous and minor curtailments, will amount in the aggregate to $1,500,000 in 1939 and $1,750,000 in 1940.

SAVING $1,500,000

"The state budget then amounts in total to approximately $93,500,000, of which $20,000,000 is proposed to be spent directly for the benefit of cities and towns.

"If that $20,000,000 is recommended that $10,000,000 be turned back to the cities and towns for road construction and repair.

"This consists of $5,000,000 recommended by transfers in the original budget, $5,000,000 not appropriated in the original budget and $2,000,000 through reductions in chapters 80 and 81 expenditures now recommended to be transferred.

"In the same $5,000,000 is $25,000,000 of reimbursements to the cities and towns for aid in education provided and paid for by them, and approximately $20,000,000 spent by the state for caring for people in the state hospitals (if the state did not undertake to care for them the cities and towns would have to do so).

"Outside of the sums directly benefiting the cities and towns, that leaves $10,000,000 for other services provided by the Commonwealth.

"Investigation is asked whether or not substantial reductions cannot be made in the following services:

1.—Alcoholic beverages control commission, in personnel and other expenditures.

2.—State racing commission, in number and salary scale of temporary help at the tracks.

3.—Allowance for diseased cattle.

PLANS TAX MESSAGE

4.—Department of corporations and taxation.

5.—Travel and meal allowances (already proposed).

6.—Maintenance of buildings and institutions.

"In order to carry out further reductions, request is made for a fund of $300,000 to $750,000 in 1940 to bolster some departments that may have extraordinary needs, and to meet extraordinary expenses that may arise due to acts of nature or other causes.

"The cash at the end of fiscal year to be added to this fund to be administered by executive under such supervision as legislature may suggest.

Methods to raise needed revenue will be subject of another message.

substitution of force or threats of force for the method of negotiation.

"As the House is aware, certain consultations are now proceeding with other governments in order to make perfectly clear the position of His Majesty's government."

In the meantime, before those consultations are concluded, I now have to inform the House that during that period, in the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered it vital to resist with their national forces, his Majesty's government would feel themselves bound at once to lend the Polish government all support in their power.

FRANCE JOINS PLEDGE

"They have given the Polish government an assurance to this effect."

"I may add that the French government have authorized me to make it plain that they stand in the same position in this matter as do his Majesty's government."

"The foreign secretary said this morning and had a very full discussion with him on the subject."

"I have no doubt the principles on which we are acting are fully understood and appreciated by that government."

"The visit of Mr. Beck will provide an opportunity of discussing with him the various further measures that may be taken in order to accumulate the maximum amount of co-operation in any efforts that may be made to put an end to aggression. If, if aggression were intended—and to substitute for it the more reasonable and orderly method of discussion."

KENNEDY IN PARLEY

"The question of a conference is simply a matter of expediency. We have no theoretical views about conferences. If they prove to be the best way."

"If there are other and more effective ways of achieving our object we might dispense with conferences."

"The Dominions are being kept fully informed."

ROME, March 31 (INS).—Considerable military activity throughout Italy was rumored today, coincident with a sharp new warning by Premier Mussolini at Reggio di Calabria that Italy is "ready to defend herself against any eventuality."

When Mr. Duce was referring to the military activity, he was referring to the military activity in the Alps, which he declared to be a "serious" matter. He said that the Italian government was "ready to defend itself against any eventuality."

WAR HUNT IN TOUR

It was persistently reported today that 150,000 officers and men were being called up by the Italian government. The report was reported as coming from a reliable source. It was reported that the Italian government was "ready to defend itself against any eventuality."

"Some rumors beyond the Alps confuse realities and forecast separation of the Italian people from the (fascist) regime."

"You have proved the exact opposite is the case."

"The people and the regime are united. The strong Italian people, like all young peoples, are ready to fight."

Mr. Mussolini, speaking from the balcony of the Palazzo del Senato, said that the Italian government was "ready to defend itself against any eventuality."

"Italy can wait. We are always ready to wait as are peoples who have many arms and a sound basis."

BRITAIN'S AID HAILED IN POLAND

WARSAW, March 21.—(AP)— Polish government courts today found Prince Michael Orlovsky, last emperor of Russia, "guilty" and "to preserve Poland's independence as fully as make haste to marry abroad in any case she may be sick of obtaining Polish citizenship by threat of force."

Walter K. Koleschek was not told of the hunting for the fugitives with Leo Nimmerkamp, Dave Hunter, Paul Carey, Babe Galt, Al et al. according to the group.

It probably was this Leo Koleschek, as well, but for the Hunter, years as he is slated for the same sentence at Leavenworth or still there.

The promise of military aid from both Britain and France came in the midst of intensive French efforts to increase defense preparation for Europe. Minister Beck's visit to London, east work.

ALLIANCE ACCEPTABLE.

Government quarters and Poland would continue however to seek agreement with Berlin over the free city of Danzig now that the mid's position has been strengthened by British-French military promises.

Any Nazi attempt to absorb the city without guaranteeing Poland's interests there would be considered a cause for war, Polish leaders declared.

Warsaw sources said the Polish declaration probably would be supplemented by a formal British-Polish military alliance when Beck visits London.

F. D. Sees Hitler Aim To 'Dominate World'

By GEORGE DURNO

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 31.—A war hawk fears that Hitler is seeking to obtain world domination. Says a local paper today when President Roosevelt said he had been in touch with the state department and Europe several times this month and expected to make further calls later in the day.

In view of the foregoing, let

Mr. Russell said that he had been told that the Government was considering the possibility of sending a mission to the American Embassy in London to discuss the possibility of sending a mission to the American Embassy in London.

The President is said to have met Father, an Italian-American priest, during a trip to the White House given to offer a black-and-white picture of the situation in the inner city.

Hitler to Talk "Plenty"

BERLIN, March 31 (INS) — Chancellor Hitler in his speech at Wilhelmshaven tomorrow will serve notice on Premier Chamberlain of Britain to stop meddling in Central European politics and to quit stirring up crises over alleged German threats against Poland, usually reliable sources said today.

The Reich's media's reaction to Chamberlain's announcement of Anglo-French armed support for Poland was one of indignation. Hitler would regard it as a betrayal of his address, which was generally expected to warn Britain, France and Poland that

The Life of Christ

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO

"He lifted up His eyes to Heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come, glorify Thy Son, that Thy Son also may glorify Thee."—ST. JOHN XVII, 1.

By COLLIN CLINE

"CHRIST IN GETHSEMANE," the great artist Liska's painting of the Saviour in the garden of "The Oil Press," commends itself powerfully to the holy evening days of the Lenten season.

Here, too, we see the wonderful combination of Man and God that was Jesus.

The Gospels tell us that, throughout the long hours of the last night on earth, He prayed to His Father in Heaven for strength to resist the evil influences before Him, because His body shrank from the agony of Calvary.

"If it be possible, let this cup pass from Me," He twice cried, and each time He added in perfect submission, "Nevertheless, not My will, but Thine be done."

We are told that the Disciples slept, and that Christ prayed alone. This is important and understandable. Weak human beings could not sustain Him; only the divine power of God could do that.

At length, before the break of dawn He awakened His Disciples, saying:

"Rise, let us be going for, behold, he that betrayeth Me is at hand."

TOMORROW, the story of Christ's holy life continues in the Boston Evening American. The illustration will be the painting by Nikolaus Geiger, titled "The Kiss of Judas."

ARMY DAY celebrated throughout Massachusetts on Thursday, April 6, by proclamation of Governor Saltonstall, is a proper and timely observance.

The occasion, "sixth and most important of its kind INVITES us to join with the people of other States in looking back upon the Army's achievements in the founding, building and defense of America."

IT DIRECTS our attention to the troubled present—to nations bristling with arms, to dictators thrusting out for power and land, to the discontent and fear that grips populations as never before.

IT CHALLENGES us to look ahead and to realize our country's needs in a world that seems determined to destroy itself.

Army Day should inspire patriotic programs in the Commonwealth every man and city.

Schools, civic organizations and public-spirited individuals should volunteer their cooperation that will assure their success.

For, as the Governor wisely says, "future emergencies must not find us so unprepared as we have been in the past."

BOSTON LOSES a responsible and valued citizen in the departure for the West Coast of Mr. Charles W. Koerner, division manager of New England RKO theaters.

The American amusement industry contains few more capable men. During his six years' management of theaters in this city, Mr. Koerner proved himself a real showman and a constructive leader.

He leaves Boston with the lasting good wishes of thousands of loyal friends.

Human Side of News

by EDWIN C. HILL

LONG TENDRILS of history are woven into dark corners of our New York.

There's a little old lady in a back street who can snatch you a most historical bit of gossip for Miss Smith's outburst, as he prepares to snuff out the lights and close the door. It was her ancestor who helped to build the city that now they just before the sun was born.

The ancestor was the Duke of Chaulieu, Marquis de Chaulieu, a great general, a great statesman, a great man. He was born in 1654, and he lived in the city that now they just before the sun was born.

A FRIEND of mine who remembers the old days of New York told me about the old days of New York.

"Her family came to France from Scandinavia in the wake of Rollo, father of William (1066) and all that the Conqueror. That's all just yesterday to Mademoiselle."

PLAYED 'ANTOINETTE'

"Her direct antecedent was Chaulieu-Stanville's cousin, César Gabriel de Chaulieu Frassin, who was Minister of Foreign Affairs, War and Marine all at once, back in 1753. His son, César Gabriel II, rode beside Marie Antoinette on her ill-advised flight with Louis XVI to Varennes, and Mademoiselle is positive Marie would have escaped."

If great great great grandfather's suggestions had been followed.

"Anyhow, when the Queen was captured, she hastily whispered to César Gabriel to flee, and to rescue her later from the Temple. But no one could get near the prison, and he fled the country."

"Revolutionists destroyed his chateau, south of Paris, but left the vault intact, but there isn't room for anyone but the head of the family to be buried there now."

"Marie de Chaulieu treasures a Holy Water Cross 500 years old, a Virgin painted on copper that stayed in the family a mere 400 years ago, and a Francis I prayerbook that she finds pleasure in illuminating at odd moments. Her great pride is her tapestry work."

I ASKED my friend if she had seen the current Svensk studio film, "Champs Elysees," in which the activities of the Duc de Chaulieu in Corsica are portrayed. She had not, having been displeased with the movie because they had made Du Barry the mistress of her ancestor, instead of the favorite of Louis XV.

Girl About Town

KATHARINE HEPBURN did not receive very much newspaper publicity during her engagement at the Colonial. And the reason was that she refused to pose for pictures. Her own argument of course was that she did not think newspaper pictures would do her justice, and consequently her fans would be disappointed.

Well, there are two ways of looking at it. Movie fans may have a pre-conceived notion about the perfection of their idol's face. And if pictures of her are unflatteringly brought out her best points and hide the less flattering angles.

CERTAINLY she couldn't be sure that an informal newspaper photograph would turn out quite as glamorous-looking. So, from her point of view, she's being perfectly reasonable.

On the other hand, it may be that the fans would think no less of Hepburn if they should see an informal, unretouched pose of her, for a change.

WE KNOW two top stars who don't care a least if an occasional

Political Parade

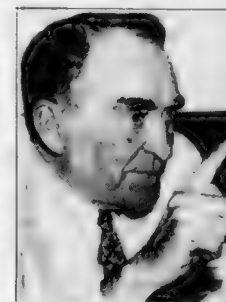

by GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, March 31.—It's a long worm that has no turning. One-handed efforts to force the New Deal to investigate itself failed before the House this week, by a 12 to 1 vote, asserted themselves that the time had come to investigate WPA.

During the six years of the New Deal not fewer than a hundred resolutions were introduced in the House alone providing for investigations. With one exception which comes to mind, the investigation of WPA, these resolutions were pigeonholed with all the arrogance and contempt which a reckless political majority, drunk with power, could muster.

BUT the other day something happened. Representative Gene Cox, of Georgia, outside Speaker Bankhead's door, slapped the face of a Workers Alliance lobbyist who impudently threatened him with political reprisal for his efforts to stop these outrageous raids on the treasury.

The noise of that well-smacked jaw has gone echoing down the corridors of the Capitol,

SPEAKER BANKHEAD
'Twins Outside His Door

and will go echoing for a long while down the corridors of time. Cox is the author of the resolution which the House has adopted, for a thorough investigation of WPA, which is as overrun with Communists and assorted radicals as a tramp freighter's hold is of Norwegian rats.

He is asking for $30,000 to enable a sub-committee of the House Appropriations Committee to conduct the investigation. The committee on accounts, which must pass on this, will be out of step with the new spirit in Congress, and the new idealism of the country at large, if it whittles this sum down a single nickel.

The time has come now to expose the whole rotten situation in WPA, not merely the politics that have been played with charity money but the grip which Communism has obtained upon many of the costly projects.

THE MAN, who had the courage to slap down a beneficiary of the public feed box that had the supple audacity to assume his gift of charity was an inalienable right, is going to see the investigation through.

He has plenty of information, which will be turned over to the sub-committee, of which Representative Woodrum, of Virginia, is chairman, and which will be the one designated to conduct the inquiry.

HITLER'S SPEECH "PENANCE" FOR ROOSEVELT

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, March 31. PENANCE: When the cast of "Outward Bound" attended a dinner at the White House, one member of the group asked President Roosevelt if he had any birthday plans. "I'm going to do penance on my birthday," the President confessed, "—by listening to a Hitler speech."

ERROR: The published version of "The American Way" omits the important speech from Martin Luther to the bank depositors—the scene which was the highlight of the show. George S. Kaufman (and I) felt that any such mistake—two days after production—would have the absence of this all-important speech was discovered by Anne Kravitz (George's daughter) who is 13.

CHATTIE, Judge Martin Manton, who is being defended by Former U. S. Attorney Martin Gaffey, will have a change of counsel. Judge Zamech after viewing Faye Mayman's screen test, says she is the most promising candidate for the Marie Dressler roles. The New York and Times have announced a change of date for April 11 will be "New York Day" at the Edison Play and May 14 will "Edison Day" here. Mayor La Guardia has also announced that April 11 will be "New York Day" and May 14 will be "Edison Day."

"How much would you charge to come over to our house and entertain us?" asked the lady. "$2500 for every five minutes," said Jesse. "That's out of the question," she assured him. "Well, I'll pay you $2500 for the first five minutes."

"Well, Mrs. Whitner, I'll pay you twice as much for half the time—if you'll come over to our house and entertain us."

"Aw, it's no use," Ridges finally announced. "Your voice is terrible" . . . "Listen," Maxie protested. "If you Theater Guild guys took as many raps on the kisser as I did, you'd be lucky if any words came out at all."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

BELOW MY CAMP in the mountains there's a little meadow, the best of them unexpectedly at a turn in the trail.

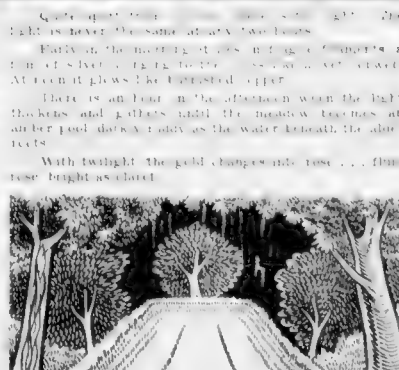

The birds are dusty and rocky black with their hush. They are work trails. They belong to everyday life. They belong with dipping dishes and boiling dams and rising corn and boiling coffee. They are twenty trails. Then suddenly while their hot rocks are still glowing, one's foot, and then just a slither in the lip-one comes upon this lovely open space with its wall of trees.

It is very quiet in the little circles. The deep grass ripples gently in a silver blue that dark as smoky jade.

HERE is clover in the grass and buttercups and tall blue iris. And in the tall a yellow weed that smells like cinnamon.

Always fragrant rises from the meadow rises and falls in faint tides, as though the soil were breathing.

Larks nest in the grass, and quail, and tiny, furry mice. And always, there is the tinkle and chuckle of a little stream, and, if you listen, you can hear drowned bells beneath the murmuring water.

It is not surprising that the authors of the study found that the majority of respondents (80%) were not aware of the existence of the National Commission for the Protection of Human Rights. This finding is consistent with the results of the study by the National Commission for the Protection of Human Rights, which found that only 10% of the population was aware of the existence of the Commission.

Hasty Pudding Cast Makes Merry at the Somerset

The Hasty Pudding cast staged a postscript of last evening's per- . . . formance at the Copley Theater, at an informal cabaret in the . . . Somerset's Ballroom Room. Between dances Charles Dyer, 34, David . . . Sheppard, Peter Pratt, Sherwood Rollins, John Johansen and other . . . prominent members of the cast sang and danced the hit numbers, . . . "I Just Gotta Make Love," "I Dream of You" and "From Me to You."

Enjoying all the fun was Arthur . . . Hadden, business manager. He . . . planned the elaborate road tour . . . which takes the show to five lead- . . . ing Eastern cities next week. With . . . him was Ruth Watkins, who . . . enhanced her blonde coloring with . . . a gown of black velvet studded . . . with brilliants.

Robert Longstreth, next year's . . . business manager, danced with . . . Eleanor Roosevelt, niece of the . . . first lady, who wore a flowered . . . silk gown and maroon jacket. She . . . was in a party which included her . . . sister Mrs. John Gutter, Mr. and . . . Mrs. Charles Shea, her former . . . Pudding leading man, Mrs. Rich- . . . ard J. Gutter, Polly Gutter and Jim . . . Donovan.

Sister Frothingham, sub-deb . . . of water of the Frothingham 32, a . . . member of the show committee, . . . was surrounded by Harvardians, . . . and Katherine Ladd was escorted . . . by Dr. Owen Frothingham, president . . . of last year's theatricals.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellen Draper came . . . on from the show in a foursome . . . with Artie Cassels and her beau, . . . Fred Long, was escorted by J. . . . Hartman McNeil.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Rollins . . . are giving a party at the Ballroom . . . Room to hold for their son, Pete, . . . who has written most of the music . . . for the show. Others at this eve- . . . ning's concert were Mrs. William . . . Bruce Pratt and Mr. and Mrs. P. . . . Loring Reed of Needham, two of . . . whose sons are in the cast.

SPRING VACATION AT MAINE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott P. Fisher . . . of Cambridge, accompanied by . . . their daughters, Eunice and Mir- . . . iam Usher, are spending the week . . . at their summer home in Castine, . . . Maine. Miss Miriam Usher, a . . . sophomore at Smith, is having her . . . spring vacation.

Trinity Grads' Dance Draws Near

Mrs. Paul Powers of Newton . . . and Ruth Clark Cox of West Rox- . . . bury were the guests at the re- . . . cent tea given by Mrs. Henry . . . Fitzpatrick, at which plans for the . . . Boston Chapter of Trinity College . . . supper dance were discussed. The . . . frolic is scheduled for the Friday . . . night after Easter.

Mrs. John Dunphy, the hostess' . . . sister and chairman of the dance . . . committee, headed the list of . . . guests. Others included Mrs. John . . . McManis of Lowell, Mrs. Willis . . . B. Downey of Hingham, Mrs. . . . Harold King of Brighton, Martha . . . Logan of Cohasset and Eleanor . . . Saunders of Lowell.

Chairman of the ushers, Mar- . . . garet Sullivan of Somerville, was . . . also among those attending, while . . . other committee leaders, guests . . . at the affair, were Mrs. John . . . Donahue of Chelmsford, Mrs. . . . Joseph Ford of Belmont, Mrs. . . . James J. Malone of Chestnut Hill, . . . Mrs. John Gahan of Medford and . . . Mrs. Clinton Miner of Newton.

McKeone-Finn Ceremony on April 15

One of the prettiest weddings . . . of the spring season takes place . . . Saturday morning, April 15, when . . . Kathryn Finn, daughter of Mr. . . . and Mrs. Michael Finn of Jam- . . . masetta Plain, becomes the bride . . . of Joseph A. McKeone Jr., of . . . Dorchester.

The bridegroom's uncle, Rev. . . . Louis Dunn, C. P., business man- . . . ager of "The Sign," will officiate . . . at the 9 o'clock ceremony in St. . . . Gabriel's Monastery in Brighton . . . and a reception to the immediate . . . families will follow at the Copley- . . . Plaza.

The bride's only attendant will . . . be her sister, Margaret. William . . . McKeone will be his brother's . . . best man.

A whirl of partying is being . . . the popular bride elect, Mrs. Gay . . . P. Capital Hails 'Alexander Graham Bell'

(Special to Boston Evening American)

WASHINGTON, March 31—Alexander Graham Bell has lived again upon the silver screen in the city where he was honored and beloved, and where he spent so many of the years of his eventful and useful life, before an audience of 4000 which included nearly all of Washington's official, diplomatic and social circles.

The brilliant occasion was the special premiere showing, in Congregation Hall, of the Twentieth Century Fox Cinema Guild film, "The Story of Alexander Graham Bell," from whose own romantic marriage sprang the immortal idea of the telephone.

It was a glow and glistening scene as dramatized upon the screen in an unforgettable drama, starring Dion Amesho, Lorella Young and Henry Leoda.

The premiere was screened under the auspices of the National Geographic Society, as a tribute to Mrs. Gabel Grosvenor, wife of the society's president and daughter of Dr. Bell. The story itself depicted an episode in the life of the distinguished scientist when he was perfecting the invention of the telephone.

As the dramatic story of this achievement was unfolded three generations of the inventor's descendants were present: Miss Gabel Grosvenor, Mrs. Gabel Grosvenor, a daughter of Dr. Bell, and Mrs. Gabel Grosvenor, a daughter of Dr. Bell, and Mrs. Gabel Grosvenor, a daughter of Dr. Bell.

bert Melville Grosvenor, great-grandchildren. Many other relatives were also present.

The picture at the premiere was screened in a brief address by Dr. Gabel Grosvenor, on behalf of the National Geographic Society, of which Dr. Bell was a member.

Representatives among the guests were members of that group of distinguished scientists in Washington who during 30 years of Dr. Bell's residence there, met each Wednesday evening at his home up to the time of his death.

These included Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution; Major William Brewster, Dr. H. M. Smith, United States National Museum; Dr. C. V. Whitney, United States Navy; Dr. J. H. P. Green, United States Navy; Dr. J. H. P. Green, United States Navy; Dr. J. H. P. Green, United States Navy.

You Can Be Beautiful

Date With an Angel

By ARLINE GOLD

SO THAT a lucky young man will be able to date with an angel... try a new make-up foundation film that is applied in town, and bids fair to pass all competitors in the beauty-making or skin-work angle, really good-looking...

Years ago when I was in the beauty business, I used to see a lot of women who were not happy with their skin. They would try all kinds of make-up, but it never seemed to do the trick. Then I discovered a new make-up foundation film that is applied in town, and bids fair to pass all competitors in the beauty-making or skin-work angle, really good-looking...

Remember the days when a good face was a thick red rose, that actually created a new skin? I had a certain secret, and I was not to be missed!

BRADSHAW

Power Report
To Stockholders

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

A few authoritative samples of business conditions in various sections will be offered stockholders of the New England Power Association along with their April dividend checks.

Francis D. Comerford, chairman, puts the message which summarizes the association's financial experience. He says that primary production has furnished power for the first quarter in the country. The figures for the first quarter were excellent. Mr. Comerford concludes that a recent wave of power has been some degree. In the future, the company's dependence on business activity. A confidence is supported by charts of industrial conditions.

UNITED FRUIT—Latest report, on the U. S. border, director, shipping company indicate earnings are running substantially ahead of a year ago. A heavy estimate, since not for the first quarter in the history of the company. When $3,960,000 was shown, before taxes. The figures in business reports are said to be continuing. General reports from the United Fruit White Electric in the first quarter are placed of the company, and per cent above corresponding 1938 period. And power in business is said to show a good start.

NEW RIVER—The report of a coal concern long associated with Jackson, and for years closely infused with local financial and business circles, has three new directors. Elected by the stockholders, they are: Robert F. Bradford, James W. Banks and William J. Davis. They will fill the vacancies created by resignation of J. Edgar P. Bradford, Robert H. Goss and C. H. Wicker. The first meeting of officers is scheduled for Thursday, April 4.

UTRECHT—It is said parties for Greater & Knight reported by the board of directors for the company. The company's earnings are running substantially ahead of a year ago. A heavy estimate, since not for the first quarter in the history of the company. When $3,960,000 was shown, before taxes. The figures in business reports are said to be continuing. General reports from the United Fruit White Electric in the first quarter are placed of the company, and per cent above corresponding 1938 period. And power in business is said to show a good start.

HERE AND THERE—Maurice J. Wicker, director of the Marine Commerce & Finance Co., has been elected to the board of directors. He stated he was leaving to return to the United States. Before leaving the company he was assistant to the vice-president in charge of operations. That position was held by the Marine Commerce & Finance Co. is largely attributed to the sudden loss of business. In recent years, so trustees Roland H. Spaulding, George P. Davis and William H. Skelton report in the director's report. Which has supervised its affairs since the company's formation for reorganization in 1938.

Sees Hostile Laws
Blocking Recovery

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

International News Service Economic Commentator

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31—Kernan Robson, realtor and bank director in the San Francisco Bay area, in a message to this column, expresses some of the doubts still in the minds of some business men. Mr. Robson's argument is that friendly professions by bureaucrats are insufficient as long as hostile laws remain on the statute books.

"Within the last few weeks," he says, "announcements of an appeasement policy have come over the air and in print, but no sound businessman will have true confidence until these laws are definitely changed. The only thing that will satisfy business is a change in the laws themselves."

"There was not much appeasement when the spokesman for the SEC characterized recommendations of 17 stock exchanges for modifications as 'phony.' Yet Mr. Robson shares the views of many that the first practical place to practice appeasement is in reviewing stock exchange reforms. He continues:

"We cannot finance expansion and defeat depression without activities of the stock market more nearly like the 1920's than the 1930's. Only the boldness of theorists or the courage of intrepid investors would seek or venture into control of the stock market of the country as is made possible by the 1934 act.

"Examination of the other groups of laws show a similar pattern of possible governmental usurpation of the processes of private enterprise."

Replying to criticism that banks are stinting in loans to little business men, Mr. Robson declared:

"Such types of credit will have to be largely on the subsidy system so widely in vogue in many of the governmental agencies. The record shows, however, the total capital of these agencies has frequently been altogether or nearly exhausted. This is a state of things which of course cannot be permitted in private enterprise."

Bankers Deny Guilt

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 31—(AP) Two Connecticut bankers who were among the nine persons indicted by a federal grand jury in New York yesterday on three charges connected with the McKesson and Robbins drug conspiracy, denied statements to day maintaining their innocence.

Rowley W. Phillips, head of a Waterbury investment brokerage firm and Horace H. Merwin, president of the Bridgeport City Trust Company and a McKesson and Robbins director, were among those charged with mail fraud, violating the Securities and Exchange Act and conspiracy. The indicted group included the three brothers of F. Donald Center-Merwin, president of the drug firm.

"I can simply state that I am absolutely guileless of any wrong doing in connection with the charges made against me," Phillips said.

In an equally brief statement Merwin declared: "I am entirely innocent of any knowledge of guilty acts of F. Donald Center."

John H. McGibbon of Bridgeport, vice-president and controller of McKesson and Robbins who also was indicted could not be reached for comment.

Stock Prices Slump on Heavy Sales

NEW YORK, March 31—(AP) The stock market slumped today due to the heavy volume of trading. The market opened at 100.00, but fell to 99.00 by 10:30 a. m. The volume of trading was heavy, with many stocks selling at a discount. The market closed at 98.00.

Dies Asks U. S. Line Drawn Barring 'Isms' and Tyrants

(Special to Boston Evening American)

BALTIMORE, March 31.—Mr. America was called upon here today to "draw a line separating the West and the East, on the one hand, and the rest of the world and then declare that 'any tyrant' who seeks to mass that line must be drawn over the transatlantic body of every man in America.

This challenge was issued by Representative Martin Dies, chairman of the House committee investigating the American situation, in a speech in Washington today and broadcast in connection with the Dies committee.

Dies, himself, has long opposed the passage of the foreign relations of America, which in its modern interpretation has been a line drawn over the Atlantic, separating the United States from the rest of the world. These three are now, he declared, in attempting to draw the line between the public and personal rights and the private property of the individual.

"Under neither cult does the individual have any fundamental rights which the state bureaucracy is required to protect or respect. When we examine the laws which have been enacted in Russia, Germany and Italy we find a striking similarity. In all three countries, local over rights has been abolished.

"The destruction or impairment of private property under socialism is always accompanied or followed by the abridgment or total abolition of religious, political and personal freedom. The reason for this is obvious.

"The individual is not judged by his own merits or his own conduct but by the class to which he belongs. The condemned class is always a minority, like the cause tyrants such as Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini have always been bullies.

"The presentment of private property, dressed up in modern clothes, constitutes the most serious challenge to this country and democracy which has occurred in modern times.

"The greatest enemies in this country today are those who are promoting a new kind of hatred. Hatred gives the way for dictatorship. It is the strongest ally of tyranny. It is a poison which, if injected into the blood stream of a nation, produces the death of freedom and democracy.

"I repeat, that we in America draw a line separating the Western Hemisphere from the rest of the world and then declare with one voice and one philosophy that any tyrant or madman who seeks to cross that line must do so over the protest of every man in America. We will permit neither their armies nor their philosophies and hates to gain a foothold in America.

ICE STARS SHOW WARES AT GARDEN

The annual Skating Carnival of the Boston Skating Club of Boston will take place tonight and tomorrow night at the Boston Garden. Stars from Europe as well as the leading performers of this country are down to compete for the Children's Hospital Charity fund.

This huge ice spectacle opens with "The Toy Shop," which is a children's number which will give the youngsters an opportunity to display their talents. There will be a lot of fun with Leslie Glazier as promoter of the ballet, and the world of the ice will bring the children's world to life.

In the evening, the ice will be a lot of fun with Leslie Glazier as promoter of the ballet, and the world of the ice will bring the children's world to life.

Another center of attraction will be Miss Dupre Walker, the fifteen-year-old 1938 ice skating sensation, who placed third in both the European and World Championships. Her fine skating has been given the highest marks in these competitions and she gives a sensational exhibition. Miss Walker has been coached by Howard Nicholson of London, who taught Sonja Henie for two years and after developed Hazel Luckin.

Donchin, Russell To Meet Wednesday

Myer "Curly" Donchin, amateur heavyweight wrestler, will meet Russell in a fight of the century next Wednesday night at the Boston Arena when he meets Russell.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 31—Sightseeing through Florida . . . Benny Ginsburg greeting visitors in front of the Dempsey-Vanderbilt Hotel at Miami Beach, and remarking he had just hopped down from Boston . . . Benny always travels by plane because it is faster and also because he likes it.

Tommy Marens and Dave Jaffe discussing the races at Tropical Park . . . Tommy confessing he didn't come up with a single winner . . . Dan Carroll riding to victory with one of the people's choices, and regretting he didn't have $2 on the nag for "Young" Happy . . . Turf writers in Miami agreeing Dave Wilson proved he is in a class by himself during the Winter meetings at Hialeah Park and Tropical Park . . . Dave getting ready for the opening of the New England racing season at Narragansett Park on April 22 . . . Planning to stop over in Maryland to pick a few winners on his way North . . . Tom Shehan packing his bags and starting for Chicago where he will write feature race stories for the Racing Form . . . Another case of Beverly boy making good.

Miami stores slashing prices 20 to 50 per cent as they make an effort to dispose of all of their goods with the season in the "Magic City" almost over . . . Bob Frend, starter at Suffolk Downs, living in Hollywood . . . Bob came to Florida from Texas to act as starter at ill fated Gulfstream . . . Looking at magnificent racing plant at Gulfstream that cost youthful Jack Horning $1,400,000 in real money . . . Grandstand has not a single post, and engineers say roof will not blow off even in a 160-mile gale . . . Talk that Tropical Park may enter deal to acquire interest in Gulfstream . . . Florida sports fans still cheering Horning for his effort to furnish the best in a race track . . . Jack's ma pulled the purse strings when he sought to get additional money for operating expenses . . . Charles F. Adams of Suffolk Downs taking a peek at Gulfstream, and remarking it is one of the most magnificent racing plants he has ever seen.

Forest Fires in the Everglades

SKIRTING THE Everglades to avoid forest fires that have been raging for weeks . . . Miles of woods and brush are in flames with guides escorting autos through sections of road in Everglades which is swept by smoke . . . Many autos blistered by intense heat of fire . . . Smoke sweeping over Miami and Hollywood which probably explains why some of the boys at the track are having trouble picking winners.

Leo Macdonell, sports editor of the Detroit Times, telling me the Tigers are sure to finish in the first division . . . Leo asking me to send a large hello for him to Jack Stenbuck, Circulation Director of the Hearst Boston newspapers . . . Hank Greenberg trying hard to get his home run drive tuned up before the season opens . . . Miami business men remarking that their take was off 10 to 25 per cent during the past Winter . . . As many tourists were here as was the case in 1933, but the boys and girls were counting their nickels and dimes before spending them . . . Only the race tracks have held up in their business . . . Mutual handle off less than 5 per cent . . . Horsemen looking forward to shipping to New England for meetings at Narragansett Park, Suffolk Downs and Rockingham Park.

Woodrow Rich Sensational Pitcher

BASEBALL EXPERTS agreeing that Woodrow Wilson Rich, Red Sox rookie, is one of the finest looking young pitchers in the South . . . The boy appears to have everything . . . Hype Igoe winning back his health as he covers the Brooklyn Dodgers for the New York Journal-American, and asking for Jack Sharkey and Johnny Buckley . . . Hype says Joe Louis should be able to name the round when he will knock out Tony Galento.

Red Sox Break Camp for North

By JOE CASHMAN

MOULTHIE, Ga., March 31—After spending a highly profitable month at Sarasota, where Woody Rich won honors as the outstanding rookie in camp, the Sox made their first stop on their northward trek here today.

Their mission was a game with the home town team, a Class D farm of the Sox.

Wayland Kerkisek was scheduled to do the hurrying for the Sox today, with Leo Nosenkamp, Boze Berger, Paul Carey, Fabe Gaffe, 4-1, at getting into the lineup.

It probably was the last time Kerkisek will hurl for the Sox this year, as he is slated for further seasoning at Louisville or Little Rock.

The Sox finished their Sarasota stay with a game against the A-1 farm hands, Louisville, a game which they lost, 5 to 4, but one which saw Elden Auker go the route. It was the first time this year that a Sox pitcher has gone the full nine innings.

Auker was touched for 11 hits, but except for here and there, he pitched well. The Louisville team is much stronger than it was a week ago, for in their lineup now are Paul Campbell, Chet Morgan, Stan Spence and Pat Colgan.

The Sox play in Atlanta tomorrow and Sunday and then hook up in their ten day series with Cincinnati in different cities along the route.

Red Sox Gossip

It's almost two years since the Newark Bears have spent a day out of first place in the International League . . . It will be another two years, at least, before they see the roof again if Manager Johnny Neun is forced to go along with the squad he has quartered here now . . .

Ever regular of the team which had the past two I. L. pennants clinched by July 4 is being tried out by the Yanks or has been sold to other league outfits . . .

PEPPER CHANGED
You'd imagine John "Pepper" Martin, erstwhile than Cardinal captain, so subtle and serious has become . . . Maybe he thinks he's been regarded as a master-mind . . .

Actually, the boys "who knew him when" are laughing at him behind his back . . .

Moe (Information Please) Berg who ought to know from catching them, supplies the information that "Woody" Rich has a more varied assortment of stuff than Jim Bagby brought up last spring, but that the Sox current rookie mound sensation is no smarter than was Bagby breaking in . . .

Berg predicts Rich will prove a valuable asset to the Sox this year, but he won't go as far as to say "Woody" will turn in as many victories as did Bagby as a freshman . . . A kid, he points out, needs plenty of breaks to win 13 decisions his first year up . . .

Jack Wilson reveals he never picked a runner off first base in his career . . . But he does make runners stick close to the bag . . . He also discloses that as a young minor league hurler he discovered no benefit was to be gained by "dusting off" good hitters . . . "Loosening up a standout striker," says Jack, "makes him mad and doubly dangerous."

Buffalo Bill Speedy in Mud

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 31 (AP)—Buffalo Bill, William E. Smith's Kentucky Derby candidate, galloped a mile in the mud at Churchill Downs in 1:48.3—the most impressive trial recorded by a Derby nominee here so far this season.

Accompanied by Miss Sarah, Buffalo Bill stepped the first quarter in 26 seconds flat, the half in 51.4, and the three-quarters in 1:18.2-5.

Kiefer Leading In Tank Tourney

COLUMBUS, O., March 31 (AP)—Adolph Kiefer, world record holder, led the qualifiers for the 150-yard back stroke event of the annual A. A. U. swimming championships at the Ohio State University pool.

Kiefer, who set the world mark of 1:32.7 in 1936, led through his qualifying heat in 1:36.6, just a tenth of a second ahead of Francis Heydt, unattached, of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Bees Spur Hur For Outfielder

By JACK CONWAY

BRADENTON, Fla., March 31—Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Bees, left today for Charleston, W. Va., where his Harford farm club is training, but before he departed he announced that the Bees had traded Catcher Al Todd to the Brooklyn Dodgers for Fitcher Bill Posedel and had sent third baseman Bob Kahle to the Newark, I. L. club, a Yankee farm, on a conditional sale.

There are several interesting angles to the announcement. For one thing it meant that catcher Phil Masi had so established himself with Casey Stengel that he is rated No. 2 catcher.

It is a remarkable feat for an unheralded rookie to beat out an established veteran like Todd.

SECK OUTFIELDER

Another, it seemed to hint that the Bees will come up with an outfielder from one of the Yankee farms.

It is barely possible that they have their eye on Judnick, husky youngster who roomed the Newark outfield last year with Charlie Keller, or Joe Gallagher.

Gallagher last year was with Kansas City, from which club the Bees purchased Shortstop Eddie Miller for Vince DiMaggio, Johnny Riddle and cash.

Waivers would have to be received on him, but such things can be manipulated, as witness the Bonura deal.

There would seem to be little room on the Yanks for Gallagher what with Charlie Keller breaking in so recently. Judnick is still with Newark, and there would be no strings attached to his sale.

KAHLE'S AIM

It is a certainty that the Bees will not stop their shuffling until they do come up with a gardener who can hit.

Posedel is a right handed pitcher who won 5 and lost 5 games for Brooklyn last year. He is 30 years old and a Californian.

At times last year he looked like one of the league's best hurlers; at others he wasn't so good.

However, you can bet that Stengel sees possibilities in him or he never would let a hitter like Todd get away.

Kahle, who looked like a phenom a couple of years back, has been worthless since his arm injury. He just won't let loose with his throws.

Baseball Fans Again Sound Off

New England baseball fans continue to differ on the various qualifications of the Bees and Red Sox. Today another flock of fans lend in their versions. Below are a few samples of what is on their minds regarding the teams.

March 31, 1939.

Dear Sir:

As a follower of the 1939 pennant winners, the Red Sox, I say this: "You can have your stinging Bees but I'll take those colorful bashers of Fenway Park any day." I wish the Bees more luck than I do the Sox because they certainly are going to need it. The Bees are a snappy, aggressive team that lacks only color, batting power and a good league, while the Sox are a snappy, aggressive team that lacks nothing.

No here is hoping the Sox will come through with a pennant, as I'm sure they will.

Dear Sir:

I am a Bees fan 100 per cent, and it is hard for me to understand why every other New England fan hasn't picked them as their favorite team, especially over the "Golden Plated" Red Sox. I have been to five Red Sox games in the past two years and I have walked out at every game before the sixth inning, because of the listless and sloppy brand of ball that the Sox play.

Go to a Bees game and there is an afternoon of real, smart, "heads up" baseball. When the Red Sox are a run or two behind, they can't hit, but those scrappy bunch of Bees are fighting every minute, whether they are ahead or behind. How any baseball fan with any brains at all can pick the Red Sox over the Bees as their favorite team, is beyond me.

Who wants to watch a ball player smash a home run over the fence when their team is ahead by such a margin that they could put in a bunch of rookies and still win? The Bees play versatile ball, with close scoring and spectacular defensive work.

The Sox are no good in the pinch, either at bat or afield, while the Bees are always displaying a grand game of baseball, whether in the pinch or not. Give me the brand of ball that the Bees play any day.

Very truly yours,

RICHARD BEAL.

Dear Sir:

I have been reading in the columns of the Boston American the opinions of your readers relative to the comparative merits of the Red Sox and the Bees and I have garnered the theory that our gallant Bees rooters are of the opinion that the Red Sox would be lost in the spacious confines of National League Field. I can do nothing but agree with these readers who express themselves in this manner, and all I can say is, "So What?" Every team in the National League is lost on that field and every team in the American League would be also.

But, inasmuch as the terrible pitching staff of the Sox managed to turn in good games in Fenway Park, with its short left field fence, it is logical to assume that they would do just as well on the other side of town.

Inasmuch as Joe Cronin's doubles usually hug the foul line in one park why would they not do so in the other. With the exception of Fox's towering drives, all of the Sox are line-drive hitters and they would be as much at home in National League Field as in any park, other than their home field.

Unlike the Bees, the Sox's line drives are not to the catcher. If you put the Big Three of the Bees in Fenway Park, they would fare no better than they do in Philadelphia or any other National League park with short fences.

Yours very truly,

RONALD M. LITTLE.

A Stinger for Navy—Rapidly nearing completion, the new U. S. Navy aircraft carrier "Wasp," largest ship ever to be built at the Fore River yard, will be christened at ceremonies next Tuesday.

No Lyin', a Lamb—Black and white lamb of Franklin Park zoo takes a bow with Linda Loring of Reading as together they depict the balmy passing of March . . . balmy if the weatherman doesn't get mixed up on his signals by midnight. Incidentally, March came in like this little feller's brother.

Bruin Defense at Work—New York Rangers went to Boston town last night and hung up a 2-1 victory over the Bruins . . . a victory often staved off by the defense team of Brimsek, Shore and Hollett . . . but not often enough by one goal. Here's action . . . action that meant nothing as "sudden death" came to the Bruins. STORY ON PAGE 48
